Medical Geneticist Victoria, British Columbia

Island Health's Department of Laboratory Medicine has an opportunity for a full time (~0.85 FTE) Medical Geneticist to join their team at the Victoria General Hospital in Victoria, British Columbia.

You have a Fellowship in Medical Genetics with the Royal College of Physicians and Surgeons of Canada (or its CCMG specialist equivalent) and are eligible for licensure in the province of British Columbia. You are an excellent diagnostician with superlative interpersonal and collaborative abilities. While your primary duties could be in one or more subspecialty areas, the ability to provide broad Medical Genetics consultation inclusive of prenatal services, dysmorphology and other familial and rare diseases is essential. A commitment to teaching is also required, as you will mentor students of the UBC Island Medical Program, and students and residents from other programs.

In this position, you will be eligible for appointment in the Island Health Department of Laboratory Medicine, Pathology and Medical Genetics. You may also apply for an academic or clinical academic appointment with the Department of Medical Genetics at the University of British Columbia.

Victoria, British Columbia's scenic Capital, is located on the southern tip of Vancouver Island. Renowned for its breathtaking natural beauty and enviable quality of life, this is an ideal place to pursue your medical career and create the kind of lifestyle only dreamt about. Few areas in the world can match BC's scope of outdoor activities, with Vancouver Island offering everything from skiing and snowboarding, to golf, and world-class boating. With Victoria's temperate climate, its rich heritage and vibrant cultural scene, it provides the very best of urban and rural living.
